

Dr. Sanbo and Kazuko Sakaguchi Graduate Internship Summer 2017 Application

Internship Description: The Sakaguchi summer internship program enables graduate students to immerse themselves in working with community-based organizations serving Japanese Americans and to gain experience in applying research skills in a community-based setting to benefit all involved.

Award: One internship stipend of $6,000
The stipend will be disbursed in payments of $3,000 at the start and end of the internship.

Terms: Ten week summer internship at 30 hours per week during the period of late June to early September. Student will be funded for a proposed internship with a Japanese American community based organization. Organizations for consideration are:

Kizuna <http://www.kizuna-la.org/>

Little Tokyo Service Center <http://ltsc.org/>

Little Tokyo Historical Society <http://www.littletokyohs.org/>

Japanese American Cultural and Community Center <http://www.jaccc.org>

Every effort will be made to facilitate the internship opportunity so that the research interests and expertise of the student will match with the organization's mission and project needs.

The graduate student intern will be required to produce a report that documents the student's experiences and progress throughout the internship, including a critical reflection and understanding of the organization and its activities. In addition, the community-based organization may require the intern to complete a research product (e.g. report, video, etc).
