

15 OCT 67

Hello Mary,

you need not apologize for the change of plans. I understand and sympathize with you. But more than that, I wish there were something I could do to help.

In a previous letter, you stated that you were disappointed to hear I didn't dig the BADA. Well, I do dig them. I just don't want to plant them. Or dig their graves. You see, what they call meaningful protest, I call meaningless suicide. Nevertheless, I dig them. Maybe because they are beautifully aware and Black enough to want to do something about what's going on.

I hadn't planned on marching in Washington this month. I didn't want to. Not with a white oriented thing. But I think it's great that Harlem has a thing of its own.

I'll see you Friday Night.

Peace,

Larry
